COMMISSION RECEIVED BY MARION SOLDIER

Willis F. Cook Made Second Lieutenant.

Word has been received from Camp Berkeley, Texas, that Willis F. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron E. Cook of 628 Wilson avenue was graduated from officers training school April 28 and has been commissioned second lieutenant in the Medical Administrative Corps.

LT. Cook graduated from Harding High school in 1938 and prior to his induction at Ft. Hayes, Columbus in March 1941 he was employed by the General Excavator Co. He was sent to Camp Lee Va. from the induction center and transferred in June to Camp Pickett, Va. before being sent to officers training at Camp Berkeley, Texas, last February.

We're proud that Henry came to say Good-bye!

To us, it meant we had fulfilled our objectives as a savings institution. We told Henry that we'd protect his savings while he is away and add earnings to those savings and other amounts he plans to send us while he is away. That's another way we serve during the War—and through the sale of War Bonds, too!

YOU LEARN • YOU CAMP OUT • YOU HAVE BUSHELS OF FUN AND YOU HELP UNCLE SAM WIN THE WAR!

GET READY TO SIGN UP!

There's Room for About 300 Boys—First Come, First Served

THAT'S all that can be taken in now. As soon as 300 boys sign up no more can be taken in until more leaders are trained. Tomorrow we will print the formal application blank for you to sign—But if you can't wait you may get a blank from your school teacher or an enlisted Scout. Then you'll be sure to get in on the first round

HERE'S ANOTHER BARGAIN WORTH TEN TIMES ITS COST

SUMMER CAMPING AT CAMP OWENS

THIS IS THE ONLY OTHER COST IN SCOUTING. BUT READ ON.

Imagine eating the world's best grub (all you want) over a big camp table with 60 or 70 other hungry Scouts! Imagine swimming in a brand new concrete pool 35 by 75 feet on a hot summer day! If you can't swim there are instructors for you. Imagine learning life saving! Imagine learning Indian lore and how to really camp! Imagine learning metal crafts, how to make genuine Indian bows and arrows! Imagine sitting around a huge camp fire at night and hearing stories boys like to hear! Imagine the most fun you could possibly have in a week's time then you'll have the camping trip at Camp Owens! The whole trip—grub—play—swimming—learning—supervision by trained counselors—everything for $8.00 for the week. Can you beat it?

Here's What You Do If You Don't Have $8.00—

Many boys want to attend camp but don't have $8.00. The Scout headquarters has a plan. You can start earning now in your spare time. Help is scarce and there's grass to cut, porches to clean, errands to run, and dozens of other things to do. For each quarter you earn you can buy a "CAMP STAMP." Then when you have $8.00 worth of stamps you can be ready to go to camp in July. But start now. In the mornings — after school. If you do you'll say you had one of the swellest summer vacations you ever had.

Call at Scout Headquarters, 218 E. Church St. They'll tell you all about it.

PLAN NOW! DON'T MISS IT!

Law Against War Plant Strikes Favored in Poll

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., May 5.—The strike controversy in the coal industry has focused attention on how such work stoppages can best be dealt with in war industries.

The majority of the American people believe all strikes in war industries should be prohibited by law.

Moreover, on the basis of a special survey in five major war production areas throughout the country, the Institute has found a great majority of war workers holding similar views.

The war production areas covered in this recent survey are New England, Philadelphia-Baltimore-Detroit, Cleveland-Butte, and California. A corps of field reporters in these areas talked to welders, ship-fitters, riveters, scrapers, gear cutters, tool makers, sprayers, machinists, and other types of workmen of the great assembly lines of our war industries.

The question put to the workers was this:

"Do you think there should be a law forbidding strikes in war plants?"

Tabulations leave little doubt as to how the workers feel about the matter. By a large majority they favor passage of a law to prohibit strikes in war plants, as the table below shows:

Favor Law Prohibiting Strikes ..... 72%
Oppose Law Prohibiting Strikes ..... 22%
No Opinion ..... 6%

Union Members

Even union members themselves would approve such a law. Here is the way they voted on the question when queried:

Favor Law Prohibiting Strikes ..... 64%
Oppose Law Prohibiting Strikes ..... 30%
No Opinion ..... 6%

The fact is, the American public has since shortly after the start of European hostilities believed that all strikes in war plants should be illegal, despite arguments to the contrary by many business and labor leaders.

Three months after the country actually entered the war, sentiment against strikes in war industries had risen to 66 per cent.

Furthermore, American workmen, both skilled and unskilled, have felt similarly on the question. Shortly before Pearl Harbor, nearly two-thirds of them favored passage of laws forbidding strikes in war plants. Three months after Pearl Harbor eight out of ten workers questioned favored such a law.

How to Make Cooking Fats Do Double Duty!

OF COURSE YOU CAN! There's no conflict between rationing and saving your used cooking grease to make gunpowder for our men at the front. And the reasons are very simple. First, the government doesn't ask for your fats until you've got all the cooking good out of them. And, second, even if you consume a lot of them in using them over, what you have left is vitally important. No housewife need think she has too little to turn in! Because just one simple tablespoon of used fat will make five machine gun bullets. Save every precious drop. Keep it in a can. When full, rush it to your meat dealer.

CLAIMS RUBBER
GAS PROGRAM

He and Patterson cooperate.

Associated Press
"The 5-Rubber contended of the synprogram had ation gasoany cur-program would be the same spirit in which it was made. Undersecretary of War Patterson's statement yesterday said the two would work together to break bottlenecks before the senate Truman committee.

"We are now struggling with this war and have no other or personal motives."

Asserting that testimony heard during the committee's investigation of Patterson's charges that preferences granted rubber had seriously interfered with 100-octane gasoline production indicated he and his associates "have done our job well—perhaps even too well," Jeffers added.

"It is the first official commination I have had since I have been in Washington."

Robert protests U. S. MARTINIQUE ACTION

Admiral Declares Door Closed to Further Negotiations.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, May 5—Admiral Georges Robert, French high commissioner of Martinique, has protested the action of the U. S. state department in breaking off relations with his administration because of its close connection with the German-dominated Vichy government, he disclosed Monday night.

In a cable to The Associated Press Admiral Robert said the state department's action "offers nothing else in exchange" for the ruptured relations, and "shut out all possibility of a fresh proposal on my part" by calling name the U. S. consul general.

Robert urged the text of his reply to the state department be made public in American newspapers, but failed to disclose what steps he proposed to take in the face of the department's action. His cable answered a query from The Associated Press regarding his views.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull's note to Robert on April 26 said the Vichy regime "is now, an integral part of the Nazi system," and declared that "the French islands in the Caribbean are the only French territories physically free from axis domination which have no part in the struggle for French liberation and which profess allegiance to a regime under the direct control of Germany."

Hull's note repudiated "any informal understanding with respect to the French Antilles based upon past discussions and conditions."

Area Manpower Board Upholds
War Job Transfer of Bucyrus Man

Approves Action of Marion Employment Service Office; Method of Handling of "Invited Firings" Decided.

The Marion Area Work Manpower committee, in a meeting Monday night, upheld the U. S. Employment Service office in Marion in its recent issuance of a certificate of availability to a Bucyrus man who left the Seneca Ordnance Plant for another job in Bucyrus, and made several changes in its statement of policy for stabilizing employment in the four counties it serves.

The Bucyrus case was heard by the area committee two weeks ago on an appeal filed by the U. S. Rubber Co., operating the ordnance plant. The company appealed after the U. S. Employment service had given the worker, William F. Graetz of Bucyrus, a certificate entitling him to leave his work as an ordnance plant firefighter and take a senior fireman's job at Camp Millard, Bucyrus, which he stated in his letter to the committee was "within walking distance of his home."

Grounds for Change
The rubber company previously had refused to give Graetz a certificate of availability, resulting in his going to the employment office to obtain one. He asked for and obtained the certificate there on the grounds that he had a "compelling personal reason" for wanting to change jobs, a grounds recognized in the Marion area plan as a valid reason for changing jobs, and on the grounds that he was not employed at his highest possible skill at the war plant.

In deciding the case Monday night, the committee made clear several points: (1) in permitting Graetz to make the change, it is not setting up a general policy of granting everyone who must drive a comparable distance the right to change jobs "for personal compelling reasons." Each case will be decided strictly on its own merits.

(2) In the Graetz case there was another factor than "travel to be considered." This was the fact that Graetz left a job as a regular fireman to take a civil service job as a "senior fireman," regarded as giving him employment at a higher skill than his work at the Ordnance plant. Also, the Camp Millard project was regarded as of equal military importance to the ordnance plant.

In the hearing two weeks ago, there was some consideration of establishing a "reasonable travel" limit that would serve as a guide in deciding whether distance of travel to and from work should be regarded as a personal compelling reason, but this was abandoned.

"Firing" Ruse Blocked
One of the most important changes in policy was an amendment designed to deal with employees who, wishing to be freed of their present war jobs and doubting their employer voluntarily would release them, deliberately seek to be discharged, ordinarily, employers are obliged to give discharged employees a statement

Green Camp Council

Gation Council Told Jail Food Allowance Too Low

GALION, May 5 — That 40 cents is not enough per day to feed city prisoners was pointed out to city council at its regular meeting Tuesday night. The complaint was made by City Solicitor George Davies in behalf of Police Chief James L. Walker.

Prisoners have been fed on five and ten cent sandwiches, but with the price raised to 15 cents upward, the 40-cent allowance for a day's meals is not sufficient, officials contend. No action was taken.

Council paid John Vossers $125 for cleaning out a county ditch. Councilman William Barr suggested the two bus stations should be consolidated having one depot, because of traffic congestion.

The Cubs introduced last year's ball to Chicago for the first time yesterday and 4,908 fans saw the biggest crowd of the day, saw a game in which there were 25 runs for a total of 36 bases and 14 runs. But unfortunately from the Chicago standpoint, 13 of the hits, including a home run by Whitey Kurowski, were made by the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Braves beat Giants 5-3 by the Boston Braves as Jim Town pitched six-hit ball and batted in three runs with a pair of singles.

Pittsburgh was outdist by Cincinnati 13-9, but nevertheless beat the Reds 8-3 as Rookie Xavier Renssnoe worked his way out of continual jams.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

JOHN HAYES looked at me helplessly, as he asked "What am I to tell her?" "Tell her the truth," I said, "that you came to me and delivered her message, that I told you Mrs. Bickett was ill and could not be disturbed for a day or two."

"What may satisfy her," he said dubiously. "There is nothing she can do about it if it doesn't," I told him. "She cannot get at me or at Mrs. Bickett, and as long as you have secured a promise from me to send an answer to her, she will not try to punish you."

"I hope you're right," he said. "I'm sure I am," I told him, "and I am sure of something else, also. She was playing a colossal game of bluff. For instance, Jack Bickett has not filed suit for divorce. I know that to be a fact."

"I know she was," he said, "but she claims to have proof of something dreadful—which never happened, but which could ruin me."

"Let me assure you again," I said, "that she has proof of nothing, either against Mrs. Bickett or against you. You may be sure, also, that her every movement is being trailed, and that if she should try to do anything unpleasant to you, she would be stopped at once."

"I can make no specific promise now," I went on, "for I do not know my father's plans, but I am virtually sure that Ruth Hayes will not keep her appointment with you after tomorrow, because before then she will be made powerless to harm anybody."

Offers to Help
He evidently thought he saw something sinister in my promise and looked shocked.

"Do you mean, she will be dead?" he asked tremulously. "No, not now," I said. Eventually, if she is guilty of all we think she is, she may pay the extreme penalty, but for the present she will only be put where she cannot do anyone the slightest harm."

"Thank God!" he said fervently. "And now, dear Mrs. Graham, I know how busy you are, is there anything else I can do for you?" "Not a thing," I told him, "and thank you so much for coming to me."

"It is I who should be grateful to you," he said. "But I do wish to know something. How is Mary?" "She is getting along famously," I said, keeping up the fiction of Mary's east-bound ankle. "She is seeing no one, however, but I will tell her you asked about her," I said, rising, but I waved him back to his chair.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Save American Lives

The Army's medical units have the best medical and surgical equipment the medical profession can devise. The same thing is true of the Navy. But it costs money. An operating table for a Navy hospital, for instance, costs $496.

"It will not be necessary," he said. "You have covered the ground thoroughly. Tell him we may need his testimony against this woman later, but it will not be public testimony."

Blushing
EVERY ONCE in a while some worried ingenious writer me and wants me to prescribe an infallible remedy to prevent blushing. It is, according to these correspondents, embarrassing.

They don't like to be teased and they are sensitized to blushing. I feel very sympathetic toward these people because I was a blusher once as a remedy. I have now reached the stage where my conscience, my self-consciousness, my sensibilities and my emotions are so indurated that even being insulted by Hitler would not cause me to blush.

The medical profession has not paid a great deal of attention to this important physiological experience. The only literature in my possession on the subject is a work by Thomas H. Burgess on "The Physiology or Mechanism of Blushing" (published 1899).

Dr. Burgess' style is Victorian; he feels that blushing is exemplified "either from timidity during the modest and sensitive days of boyhood or from the conscious feeling of having erred in maturer years." (The latter is something I have never experienced.)

Dr. Burgess states also: "Blushing cannot be excited by physical means—only by the passions. We can make an individual laugh against his will by tickling the soles of his feet; we can make him cry by corporal punishment; we can make him tremble with fear; we can arouse his anger by striking him, but we can only make him blush by appealing to his conscience."

He rather contradicts himself a page or so further on when he states that the face of Charlotte Corday, who was executed during the French Revolution, became suffused with a blush after the head was severed from the body. I would be inclined to classify the severance of the head from the body as a physical cause.

He wrote too early to be aware of the physiology of the vasomotor nerves—that is, the nerves which are not under control of the will.

we considered the phenomenon of fainting, in which the blood vessels of the brain contract by action of the vasomotor nerves. Blushing is just the opposite: the capillaries of the skin dilate due to the influence of emotions upon the automatic nervous system.

All races blush. It may not be observable in the Negroes, but there have been observed cases of Negroes with a small tear on the face which changed color under emotional stress. But if you want to see blushing in full flower, you should study an albino.

The lower part of their skin, however, are well supplied with blood vessels and albinos are prone to blush. Their sensibilities are easily excited and when an emotion stirs them, the natural dead-whiteness of the skin suddenly becomes suffused with color which stretches over the neck and down the arms, growing from pink to red, to blood color, finally to a purplish, hectic blush. Even the eyes take on an appearance as of fire.
